DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: the specification does not disclose the newly added limitation "bracket" of claim 2 with as such.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-5, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hirose et al.

The statement of intended use carries no patentable weight.

Hirose et al. discloses a telescopic liquid ejection device comprising: a hollow outer section 102 connects at one end 113 to a supply source of liquid, a hollow inner section 124 connects at one end to a steerable nozzle 126, a spring 117, a flattened portion 127 formed with a cover body 128 that is conformed to an opening on the outer surface of the vehicle, a bracket 107/141 with an orifice 107A for fixing the device to a vehicle structure using a fixing element 153 (see figures 2-7).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hirose et al.

Hirose et al. teaches all the limitations of the claims except for the flattened portion of the nozzle can be substantially adjusted. At the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to provide the device of Hirose et al. with the flattened portion of the nozzle that can be substantially adjusted, because Application has not disclosed that the flattened portion of the nozzle can be substantially adjusted provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art, furthermore, would have expected Applicant's invention to perform equally well with either claimed flattened portion or the Hirose et al. flattened portion. Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify the device of Hirose et al. to obtain the invention as specified in claim 6. Furthermore, the flattened portion 127 of the Hirose et al. reference is conformed to curved portion of the vehicle, thus it is obvious to one skilled in the art to make the flattened portion 127 of Hirose et al. adjustable for conforming to the outer surface of the vehicle.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed March 19, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The nozzle 126 of Hirose et al. is turntable or steerable because the spherical shape of the nozzle (see the shape of the nozzle as shown in figure 11), the spherical shaped nozzle 127 is located within the container portion 125, wherein the container portion 125 is coupled and in fluid communication with the coupling pipe 124, the relationship of the spherical shaped nozzle 127 and the container portion 125 is of the ball and socket configuration, thus the spherical shaped nozzle 127 (ball) is freely turntable within the container portion 125 (socket).
7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
